

Things seem to be going well on most plots and the field is looking good. It's good to see so many plot holders working to improve things, despite the dry conditions. The first Brew Crew seemed to go very well and hopefully you will be able to attend one soon.

Half price potatoes and onions

This weekend we will be selling the remaining potatoes and onions at half price. If you love a bargain or haven't got round to planting these yet, potatoes are £1.50 and onions are 50p.

Next Brew Crew!

Saturday 2nd May

10:30am to 11:30am

What to bring...

A mug - we'll provide tea, coffee, milk and some biscuits

A gold coin donation - help us cover our costs

Spare seeds or plants - (optional) if you have anything to swap or give away

First Saturday of each month

Water

Never a popular point to make, but please be considerate and careful in your use of water. Sprinklers are not allowed but hosepipes are, providing they are not just left on. We don't want to lose this facility.

Community Payback team

This team will be working on the field on April 25th and May 23rd.

IAS payments

Thanks to all who have paid IAS membership. The online system seems to have worked well so far, although you are still able to pay using the forms available. I will remind those who have not yet paid about membership/public liability insurance. After this the council may contact you to provide evidence of this insurance.

Free glass

Around 20 panes (mostly 24 inches x 14.5 inches) and different shapes are available. Speak to Neil on plot 3 if interested

Locking of gates

Despite the constant reminders, people are still leaving the gates unlocked, especially in the morning. Unless someone is following you in or out, or someone is actually manning the gate, it needs to be locked. With a number of thefts on other fields we want to reduce the chances of it happening here.

If you need to have a conversation about managing your plot if things have changed, please let me know.
